

UK-IGF November 2016

Agenda

08.30 Registration

09.00 Welcome: Baroness Fritchie, Chair, Nominet

09.05 US Internet Governance - Lawrence Strickling, US Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Head of NTIA

This session will explore the recent decision to transition oversight from the NTIA to ICANN over the Internet Assigned Numbers Authority (IANA). As head of the NTIA, Strickling oversaw a historic moment in global internet governance and will be sharing his insights of this landmark event.

09.30 Global Policy Landscape - Ed Vaizey MP, Former Minister for Culture, Communications and Creative Industries

This session will address the global policy landscape. By the time of the event we will know the result of the US election. What impact will the election of the new President make to a free and open internet? What are the implications of the rise of China?

10.00 Plenary One: Brexit, what next for UK internet policy?

Five months after the referendum, what are the practical impacts of Brexit (data protection and privacy issues, digital trade) and the philosophical ones (democratic self-governance, sovereignty, and cyberspace's future) How does Britain maintain a role as a thought leader in internet governance?

Panel:

- Chair: Charlotte Holloway (Associate Director and Brexit Policy Coordinator, TechUK)
- Jamie Bartlett (Centre for the Analysis of Social Media @ Demos)
- Malcolm Harbour CBE (Former Conservative MEP)
- Chris Francis (SAP)

11.00 Coffee Break and Vox-Pops

11.20 Plenary Two: What is the impact of the internet on political debate?

Does the internet distort political debate? Does the internet put people off politics or encourage participation? Do internet companies have a role to play in widening people's exposure to other points of view? What lessons can we learn from recent votes in the UK, and across the world?

Panel:

- Chair: Seb Payne (FT Comment Editor)
- Toni Cowan-Brown (UK/EU leader for NationBuilder)
- Carl Miller (Research Director for Centre for the Analysis of Social Media @ Demos)
- Dan Hodges (Mail on Sunday)

12.20 Lunch and Vox-Pops

13.25 Sponsor's address: Russell Haworth, CEO, Nominet

13.30 Keynote address: Rt Hon Matt Hancock MP, Minister for Digital and Culture

14.00 Plenary Three: e-Identification: The Future of Privacy? – organised by Access Partnership

The rise of new forms of electronic identification potential offers improved security and easier access to public and private services. What does best practice look like? How can we ensure private individuals' data remains secure? How do we make sure electronic identities are interoperable? What is the killer app that will drive broader adoption? How can it be made more secure?

Panel:

- Chair: Greg Francis (Managing Director, Access Partnership)
- Ben Cade (Founder and CEO, Trustonic)
- Sarah Munro (Vice President, Head of Digital Identity, Barclays)
- Robin Wilton (Technical Outreach Director for Identity and Privacy, Internet Society)

14.40 Is the UK prepared for the threat of a cyber-attack? - Professor Anthony Finkelstein and Alistair Bunkall'

This session will feature UCL's Professor Anthony Finkelstein the UK's Chief Scientific Adviser for National Security in conversation with Alistair Bunkall (Defence Correspondent for Sky News). With a number of recent high profile cyber-attacks targeting businesses this session will examine the key cyber security risks; how incidents are currently managed, and what steps need to be taken in educating consumers to ensure a secure digital economy? What direction do we anticipate internet governance moving in over twenty years?

15.20 Coffee Break

15.30 Keynote address: Baroness Shields, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Internet Safety and Security and Plenary Four: An internet for children and young people

This session seeks to harness the views of young people about internet usage in contrast to older generations. It will run through the topics touched on throughout the day and ask a panel of young people where they see the future of the internet. Baroness Shields, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Internet Safety and Security will deliver a short address to the Conference before handing over to the panel discussion

Panel:

- Chair: Will Gardner, Chairman, Childnet International,
- Youth panel from the Diana Award

16.30 Wrap-up

What are the UK's key themes/ topics/ messages as we look to the 2016 IGF in Mexico? Round up and headlines from the day's discussions.

Two addresses from:

- David Souter (ICT and Development Expert)
- Andrew Puddephatt (Chairman of Global Partners Digital)

17.00 Meeting close